A Brief History

When Guy Maiorano purchased The Elms in 1985 it was a sheltered care facility. Guy realized that there were a number of people in our area who shouldn't be home alone, yet don't need the skilled care provided in a nursing home. The result was Southern Rhode Island's and Southeastern Connecticut's first Assisted Living facility... The Elms.

In over two decades, The Elms has enjoyed over five expansions and now hosts 75 private suites.

The Carriage House for early Alzheimer's/dementia was the next logical step. Before The Carriage House opened on The Elms campus, loved ones would have to be admitted to area nursing homes or be placed in communities outside the area, creating an additional hardship on their families.

Today, The Carriage House sets the standards by which all Alzheimer's communities are measured.
